

Getting delegation of governance right within a MAT for Trustees, CEOs and Chairs of Trust

A guide for boards on considerations when setting or enhancing their governance structure and Scheme of Delegation.

Overview

Many multi-academy trusts find that their governance structure and/or Scheme of Delegation either are not fit for purpose or are not understood and look to revise them as their MAT evolves.

This webinar provides guidance on considerations when reviewing or designing a Scheme of Delegation (SODs) or governance structures across a MAT. It looks at current trends, considerations, and common pitfalls and provides an opportunity for participants to compare their governance structures and SODs.

The following will be explored:

- Refresher on MAT legal structures and trustee responsibilities
- How a SOD should be used
- To delegate or not to delegate – the pros and cons
- Understanding principles of organisational design
- Considering the rules on separation of responsibilities
- How trustees should monitor governance systems and processes
- Ofsted inspections of MATs and the role of the SOD

Who should attend?

About NLGs

National Leaders of Governance (NLGs) are experienced chairs of governing boards. All NLGs have been through a rigorous designation process from the National College of Teaching and Leadership (NCTL), a part of the Department for Education (DfE), to demonstrate that we have the skills, experience and attributes to be a National Leader of Governance. All NLGs are either actively chairing standalone schools or academies, local governing boards or multi academy trust (MAT) trust boards or have done so within the last five years. All NLGs are trained to support governors through mentoring and coaching and provide governance services which are quality assured.
