

The Boards' role in exclusions and panel hearings (for Governors and Trustees)

A guide for boards on their duties hearing appeals and overseeing exclusions

Overview

Governing boards may be asked to form a panel in several circumstances, such as hearing an exclusion appeal, dealing with a disciplinary issue, or hearing a complaint. These are becoming more common, so being well prepared for these is essential.

This webinar provides guidance to organising exclusion hearings and other statutory panels. On this webinar, the following will be explored:

- Understanding the different types of panels you may need to convene
- How to approach exclusion hearings
- How to ensure parental complaints are heard
- The importance of a policy
- How to manage appeals hearings
- How to manage disciplinary hearings
- The different roles on the panel
- Where to get support
- Who should be involved

All delegates receive an electronic copy of the presentation and supporting materials and resources to help them be more impactful in their governance role.

Who should attend?

Any governors or trustees involved in sitting on or leading panels or hearings.

Tutor

Rosemary Lovatt is an NLG and led National Leaders of Governance (NLGs) across the East of England and NE London for many years. She is currently Vice Chair of a large multi academy trust. She is an experienced governance tutor, chair and trustee who has supported boards across England and has trained thousands of governors and trustees.

What people say about our training

'The best governor training I have ever attended'

'Inspiring! Thanks you! I now feel confident to be a more strategic governor'

'At last, training that provides tools, examples and checklists to help us do the job!'

About our training

As experienced Chairs of Governors we strongly believe in providing training that gives you the knowledge, tools and examples to be effective governors. Our aim is to give you the confidence and tools to improve your governance as quickly and effectively as possible. All our training is provided by National Leaders of Governance who are experienced governance trainers.

About NLGs

National Leaders of Governance (NLGs) are experienced chairs of governing boards. All NLGs have been through a rigorous designation process to demonstrate they have the skills, experience and attributes to be a National Leader of Governance. All NLGs are either actively chairing standalone schools or academies, local governing boards or multi academy trust (MAT) trust boards or have done so within the last five years.
