

How to monitor safeguarding in your school or trust

This course gives governors and trustees an understanding of the scope of their safeguarding duties, including; monitoring safeguarding records and processes, safer recruitment, monitoring how pupils keep themselves safe, and understanding the boards' role in allegations

What you will learn:

- What is Safeguarding and what is child protection?
- the importance of training, policies and systems
- What school staff should be looking for - vulnerabilities, abuse and neglect
- Managing pupil behaviour - what boards should know
- Supporting mental health and wellbeing - regulations and monitoring responsibilities of boards
- Helping pupils keep themselves healthy and safe
- Creating a safe and secure learning environment
- Safer recruitment
- Dealing with allegations

All delegates receive an electronic copy of the presentation and supporting materials and resources to help them to be more impactful in their governance role.

Who should attend?

Any governors and trustees who have responsibilities for safeguarding. All governors and trustees should attend this course.
