Preparing for your next Ofsted Inspection - for Governors and Trustees

The 2019 new Education Inspection Framework (EIF) states that when inspecting governance inspectors will check whether leaders and those responsible for governance all understand their respective roles and perform these in a way that enhances the effectiveness of the school

This governance training provides practice guidance on what is expected of governance under the latest EIF, provides tools to review the evidence of your governance effectiveness and prepare for your next Ofsted inspection. It covers:

- How to interpret the Ofsted framework
- What is expected of those in governance roles
- Understanding the importance of the curriculum
- Evidencing that you are holding to account and know your school well
- Ensuring statutory compliance
- Getting ready for Ofsted

All delegates receive an electronic copy of the presentation and supporting materials and resources to help them be more impactful in their governance role.

Who should attend?
Governors and trustees of all phases, including those new to governance, or those who want a refresher.

Tutor
Linda Robinson - An Essex-based National Leader of Governance, experienced governance tutor, mentor and coach who has delivered bespoke governance training across Essex.
