

Virtual Governance - how to work remotely (for Governors and Trustees)

A guide for boards on being effective whilst working remotely

During the lockdown of summer 2020 governing boards were advised by the DfE to step-back to allow their school to focus on the evolving COVID-19 pandemic. From September 2020 it is expected that boards pick-up their core duties again and are holding their schools to account for catching up after the lockdown. But how can you achieve this whilst still working remotely?

This webinar provides guidance on the legalities of governing remotely, and how to continue to be an effective board and discharge your duties whilst staying safe.

On this webinar you will explore:

- Understanding the legal position
- Reflecting on the effectiveness of your virtual meetings
- How to recruit and induct new governors remotely
- Listening to your stakeholders
- What can be monitored remotely?
- When is it necessary to go into school?
- How to support your headteacher virtually

All delegates receive an electronic copy of the presentations and supporting materials and resources to help them be more impactful in their governance role.

What people say about our training

'The best governor training I have ever attended'

'Inspiring! Thank you! I now feel confident to be a more strategic governor'

'At last, training that provides the tools, examples and checklists to help us do the job'

About our training

As experienced Chairs of Governors we strongly believe in providing training that gives you the knowledge, tools and examples to be effective governors. Our aim is to give you the confidence and tools to improve your governance as quickly and effectively as possible. All our training is provided by National Leaders of Governance who are experienced governance trainers. Our training can be provided as webinars, bespoke sessions for your board or group of schools or face to face sessions (subject to social distancing guidance).

About NLGs

National Leaders of Governance (NLGs) are experienced chairs of governing boards. All NLGs have been through a rigorous designation process from the National College of Teaching and Leadership (NCTL), a part of the Department for Education (DfE), to demonstrate that we have the skills, experience and attributes to be a National Leader of Governance. All NLGs are either actively chairing standalone schools or academies, local governing boards or multi academy trust (MAT) trust boards or have done so within the last five years. All NLGs are trained to support governors through mentoring and coaching and provide governance services which are quality assured.
